COMPLETE BASEBALL SCHEDULE AN UNUSUALLY FINE ONE.

The baseball schedule for the coming season has been completed by Manager H. C. Willis, and is the most pretentious ever arranged for a team of this institution. Contests are booked with Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Georgetown, Virginia and Navy. The schedule will include a ten days' trip through North Carolina and Virginia in April, and a special trip to Norfolk on March 26 for the Princeton game.

A series of three games is to be played with Georgetown for the District championship.

The schedule is:

March 20—St. John's College or the Catholic University, at Van Ness Park.

March 23—Cornell, at Van Ness Park.

March 26—Princeton, at Norfolk, Va.

March 29—Yale, at Van Ness Park.

April 5—Syracuse, at Van Ness Park.

April 8—Davidson College, at Greensboro, N. C.

April 9—Davidson College, at Greensboro, N. C.

April 10—U. of N. C., at Chapel Hill, N. C.

April 11—A. and M. of N. C., at Raleigh, N. C.

April 12—A. and M. of N. C., at Raleigh, N. C.

April 13—Trinity College, at Durham, N. C.

April 15—Washington and Lee, at Lexington, Va.

April 16—University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, Va.

April 17—Naval Academy, at Annapolis, Md.

April 19—Fordham, at Van Ness Park.

April 20—Trinity, at Van Ness Park.

April 22—Carlisle Indians, at Van Ness Park.

April 25 — Georgetown, at Georgetown Field.

April 27—William and Mary, at Van Ness Park.

May 3—A. and M., at Van Ness Park.

May 4—Randolph-Macon, at Van Ness Park.

May 6—Washington and Lee, at Van Ness Park.

May 11—Georgetown, at Georgetown Field.

May 22—Catholic University, at Van Ness Park.

May 25—Georgetown, at Washington.

NORTH CAROLINA DEBATE.

The debate with North Carolina has been set for some time in the last of April in this city. The question will be, "Resolved, That the ownership and operation of interstate railways by the National government would subserve the best interests of the people of the United States."

The first preliminaries will be held on February 9 in the Law building. Each speaker will be allowed six minutes, and will chose their order of speaking by lot. If there are more than fifteen, there will be three trial debates, one-half being selected for the second preliminaries one week later. Those speaking in the second trials will defend the opposite side from that which they defended in the first trials.

From the interest shown in the trials for the Cincinnati debate, there will no doubt be a large number of contestants in the first trials.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DEFEATS MARYLAND UNIVERSITY AT BASKET BALL, 41 to 19.

The University, in its second basket-ball game of the season and in the first intercollegiate game ever played in this city, defeated the Maryland University last Saturday at the Light Infantry Armory, by a score of 41 to 19.

The team was in fine physical condition and showed a thorough knowledge of the game. The team work of the five was high class, Coach Robey getting splendid results out of the material which reported to him three weeks ago. Not a man on the team had any experience at the game, with the exception of Rice, when Robey took hold.

Unusually clean play marked the game throughout, although toward the close of the first half a little roughness was in evidence, but Referee Wefers quickly stopped this by penalizing the offending team. Rice, the crack forward of the University, was the star of the team. Of the nineteen goals that his team scored, twelve are credited to him. Eckert, the nimble forward of the Maryland team, was the star for the visitors, his goals from free tosses being accurate, and his passing of the gilt-edge order.

Eckert started the scoring when he tossed a pretty one in the south basket, but Rice soon tied the score with a shot for the opposite opening. The Maryland team kept up the scoring game for the first ten minutes of play and then seemed to take a slump. George Washington took immediate advantage of this, and with some clever all-round playing, in which every member of the crew took part, succeeded in getting such a lead that it was hard for the Marylanders to get on any kind of terms with. Line-up and summary:

Geo. Wash.	Position.	Maryland.
Eichelberger	right for,	Eckert Duffey.
Prosperi	center	Thomson cap.
Gable	right guard	Hala, Brent
Newhowser cap.	l. guard	Charlton Whiting.

Goals—Rice (12), Moran (4), Eichelberger (3), Prosperi (2), Thomson (2), Duffey, Gable, Newhowser and Eckert. Goals from free toss—Eckert (4), Moran and Rice. Referee—"Bernie" Wefers, Georgetown. Timekeepers—Mr. Yoder, Central, and Mr. Robey, George Washington University. Time of halves—20 and 15 minutes.

PROFESSOR SCHUMACHER VISITS THE UNIVERSITY.

The University has been honored with a visit by Professor Schumacher, of Germany, who has been at Columbia University as the Exchange Professor between that University and the German University, Profesor Burgess of Columbia going to Germany. Professor Schumacher was the teacher of the Emperor's children and is noted for his study of the railroad question in China, his exposition of which made him greatly sought after by many universities. He will return soon to his home in Bonn.

TARHEEL CLUB.

The Tarheel Club picture for this year's Mall will be taken at Harris-Ewing's Studio, Sunday, February, 10th, at eleven o'clock sharp. All students in the University registered from North Carolina are requested to be present.

THE TRACK TEAM AND THE ATHLETIC COUNCIL.

The present indoor season marks the third anniversary of the formation of a George Washington University track team. Since its organization the team has succeeded in making fully as big a name for itself in this section as either football or baseball teams. During the first year of its existence, a relay race was lost to Western Maryland College in the Georgetown meet, and the team came in fourth in their relay race at the Pennsylvania relay carnival, held in Philadelphia. In May, 1905, a class meet was held, the first in the history of the University, and in augmenting the number of candidates for the teams in the following season it proved of considerable assistance.

Last year, mainly through the excellent work of Steve Lorando, captain-elect, the track team improved immensely. Mr. Turkenton, the manager, arranged a number of relay races for the team and consequently the University was represented, and well represented, in all the meets of any consequence in the Southern division of the A. A. U. We ran the University of Pennsylvania, John Hopkins twice, and Virginia twice. Our greatest triumph came when our two-mile relay team wrested the championship of the South at that distance from the University of Virginia in a most sensational race, at the High School meet in this city. At Richmond we were beaten for the one-mile championship by a scant foot, by the Pride of the Old Dominion. And at the Georgetown meet on March 2d the Freshman College Relay defeated the Georgetown Freshmen, thus gaining the first and only decision ever won within the writer's knowledge, over our rivals across the creek. All this time "Jack" Sterrett was doing himself proud in the pole vault, in every meet in which we competed, and finally gained a much deserved honor, when he won the championship of the South at Richmond, a title which he still holds.

When spring came along the team was out of funds and consequently had to forego taking the Philadelphia trip, and give up the class meet, which it had been hoped to make an annual feature.

So far this year we have competed at two meets. In Baltimore on January 12th our two-mile relay team went down before the crack four from Columbia University, said to be at the time the strongest quartet in the North. Sterrett, without training, took second in the pole vault, being scratch man and losing only on account of his handicap, and Lorando got third in the Intercollegiate half, after running on the relay team.

On the 26th of January our relay team went to Richmond, and through default by the other team secured their race without running. Sterrett won the pole vault, Forsythe got third and Lorando fourth, and Lorando took second in both mile and half-mile runs. By the hardest kind of luck we were nosed out of the trophy cup and championship of the South, both going to the winner of the meet, our old rival from Virginia. The Charlottesville boys scored 15 points to our 14, being entered in seven events while our men entered only four. That brings us up to date. Next Saturday night the team runs again in Baltimore, and on the 23d of this month we are matched against Virginia in the feature event of the Federal indoor games, a one-mile relay race for the southern championship, and a beautiful cup offered by Hickman and White, to the winner of the race.

But all this is merely for the purpose of showing what the team has done. Now we will come to the point of this matter. Though not generally understood by the student body, the track team since its organization has been dependent altogether on itself for maintenance, receiving no support from the Athletic Council, the official supervisory council of all University sports. Last year, as has been said, the Philadelphia trip and the class meet had to be done away with. Early last fall, by the energetic efforts of two or three of those interested in the team, a small amount of money was raised by selling arm bands. The team has been equipped and barely managed to eke out upon this money; a hall had to be secured, and as a consequence the treasury is now nearly depleted.

Last year the Athletic Council refused financial aid to the team, alleging inability through lack of funds. The relay team which defeated Virginia, however, were voted their "W's," and it was understood that only lack of funds kept the council from supporting the team. This year things are different. The old debts have been cleaned up and the Athletic Association is solvent, due to a successful football year. No meeting of the council has been held since the conclusion of the football season, consequently no action has yet been taken on the track team. For some reason the meeting has been put off and put off time and again, and in

COLUMBIAN ELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular semi-annual election of officers of the Columbian Debating Society last Friday night, the following were elected: President, F. D. Couden, L. '08; vice-president, F. H. Twyeffort; secretary, W. A. Hutchins, L. '08; treasurer, A. H. Hughey, L. '08; critic, R. I. Moore, L. '07; press representative, W. H. West, L. '08; chairman executive committee, P. A. Rehr, L. '08; members of committee, G. B. McClellan, L. '08, and Hendry, L. '08. Inter-collegiate debate representative, A. C. Agnew, L. '07.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Moore for his efficient services as president of the Society during the past term and it was voted to have the gavel which he had used, suitably inscribed and presented to him.

Stanford University seems to see ahead a great future for Rugby, and is preparing to meet the demand of the sport. The Executive Committee of the Associated Students have issued instructions to the graduate manager, Sales, to have the football field turfed. To turf this large stadium properly grass will be sent from Australia and seed sown early, to have a firm turf by the next season. In England and Canada the game of Rugby is played almost exclusively on turf, and Stanford is desirous of having a field which will not handicap her teams.

The Illinois legislature has recently passed a law to the effect that no students wil be allowed to smoke cigarettes. The Daily Maroon, of Chicago University, comments on the measure unfavorably.

The University of Wisconsin students who, after passing the civil service examinations, were refused employment as clerks in the legislature, are indignantly demanding their right to the positions.

Coach Sheldon, of the Indiana football team, has been appointed an instructor in the Law Department of that school and will remain another season.

Grinnel College, Iowa, recently received a $50,000 donation from Andrew Carnegie.

the meanwhile the track team has suffered in consequence of the delay. The team needs, and vitally needs, a coach, who can look after the men and get them into shape for there contests. Without such a man any team, no matter how good, is fearfuly handicapped. The management of the team has an option on a good and heady coach's services, a reasonable option. But what can be done? They must sit idle and wait for the council to meet, because there is no one delegated with sufficient authority to tell them to go ahead and get the coach and the council will back them. The trophy cup and championship of the South were lost at Richmond, directly through lack of a coach. With an experienced man to look after their interests there were innumerable ways in which we could have secured a sufficient number of points to have snowed Virginia under. But no such man was there, and we lost. On the 23d of this month we have this most important race with Virginia, which we must win. Are we making any extra preparation? No. A good coach from now until the night of the race would insure us a fifty per cent better chance of winning. But what can be done. The council may meet to-morrow or it may not meet for a month. And without their assistance the management's hands are tied. The championship two-mile relay team of the South, ran in Baltimore in an assortment of variegated suits, against a crack northern team, because the management couldn't afford to equip them with regulation suits. What sort of an impression do you suppose the men made under such circumstances? Well, enough has been said. In closing, it may be remarked that the track team has an excellent program mapped out for it, if it exists long enough to fill it. That is doubtful, unless something is done in the immediate future. Let us hope that the council will give up its dilatory tactics and get together on some definite action in this matter. The crucial point has been reached. A track team is inevitable in any large university, and the time has come to jump in with both feet and take a leading part from the start in the track athletics of the South.

G. W. U. LOSES BY ONE POINT.

The following is taken from a local paper: In a fast and clean game, Virginia defeated the basketball team from George Washington University to-night on the Fayerweather gymnasium floor by the close score of 18 to 17.

George Washington started off with a rush, and before Virginia had settled down Eichelberg, the left forward for the Hatchetites, had landed two goals from the floor and Rice had tossed the ball in the net after two fouls had been called on Virginia. The local players then took a brace and the first half ended with the score standing 11 to 11.

A fast pace was set at the opening of the second half, but it was several minutes before a score was made. Then first one side and the other counted. Toward the close the first roughness was exhibited, but this was soon ended. George Washington took a final brace and tied the score within two minutes of the close of the contest. Here Rice had an excellent opportunity to win the game after three fouls had been called on Virginia in succession, but the ball in each instance fell short of the net.

Rice put up a star game for George Washington, his goal throwing being the best ever seen here. He made a total of thirteen points. Many of his throws were at difficult angles and were liberally applauded by the spectators. Whiting proved a past master at dribbling and came in for a share of the applause.

The captains of both teams were unable to play on account of injuries. For Virginia, Hawkins and Grinnalds put up the best game, each tallying seven points. Atkisson also did good work at center. Line-up:

Virgania.	Position.	G. Wash.
Grinnalds	right for.	Eichelberg
Atkisson	center	Prosperi
Vaughan	right guard	Gobel
Williams	left guard	Whiting

NEEDHAM-ENOSINIAN DEBATE.

Arrangements are under way for a debate between the Needham and Enosinian Debating Societies. At Needham's last meeting it was definitely decided to accept Enosinian's challenge and the Executive Committee was instructed accordingly. In the preliminary negotiations Needham will be represented by Mr. Stein while Mr. Wm. C. Van Vleck is chairman of the committee from Enosinian.

The sororities of the University of Minnesota have set a pledge day some time early in April. It is hoped that this will better the system of rushing, and it will be tried for two years, and then, if successful, will be continued indefinitely.

BASKET-BALL.

While all other universities all over the country are taking such a deep interest in that most popular mid-winter game, basket-ball, it is fortunate that there are in this University a few students who are enthusiastic and determined enough to institute the game here and boldly enter into contests with other institutions who have been playing the game for some time. For since George Washington is to maintain her place she can not afford to neglect a sport that has such a hold upon the athletic interests, even though we are handicapped by the lack of a much-needed gymnasium. If these few students who are determined to have a team, were such as could be easily discouraged, there would be no basket-ball team now, for their efforts have met with a very luke-warm reception; but they have gone on in the face of discouragements till a very creditable team has been evolved.

In its first game, that with University of Virginia in Charlottesville, its playing was a great surprise to even those who had faith in its ability, for after one of the hardest games that Virginia has played, the score was against our team by only one point. Then in the next game, last Saturday night the Maryland University team was overwhelmingly defeated by a score of 41 to 19. The next game will be to-night with the University of Virginia in Light Infantry Hall. With such an auspicious start the team should receive the encouraging support of the students of the University. Especially should a large number turn out to-night, not only to help the team out in a financial way, but to cheer them and add zest to their playing because so many of their fellow students are looking on and "rooting" for them. Every student that can do so should come to see the game to-night.

Georgetown will be played on February 27, and March 2 and 13.

Mr. Wilhelm has resigned and Mr. W. P. Wood has been elected in his stead. Mr. Roy Newhouser is captain.

THE COURSE IN SPANISH-AMERICAN LAW.

Professor E. G. Lorenzen returned to the University last week after a month's absence in Cuba, where he has been making special studies in the practical administration of Spanish-American Law, preparatory to beginning a special course in that subject with the commencement of the next semester.

Professor Lorenzen is peculiarly well qualified to give instruction in Spanish-American Law, which has recently become so important to American lawyers, but which is not yet adequately treated in any of our American law schools. After an extensive course of study in the Roman Law, upon which the Spanish Law is based, Professor Lorenzen spent much time in Spain studying the law and legal institutions of that country. Not feeling content, however, with getting at second hand his knowledge of the Spanish-American Law as administered in Latin American countries, with characteristic zeal for thoroughness, Professor Lorenzen secured a month's leave of absence in order to study at first hand, in Cuba, the actual conditions that exist in the administration of the Spanish-American Law.

The course in Spanish-American Law, which will first be given during the next semester, will begin with a historical survey of the development of Spanish Law in Europe and in America with a statement of its actual sources. This will be followed by a resumé of its public law (constitutional and administrative), its criminal law and its civil and criminal procedure. The law now prevailing in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines will afford in general the basis of study. Frequent references will be made to the French codes, particularly to the civil code which has influenced very materially the legislation of all Spanish-American states.

It is believed that this course will be of the greatest value, not only to all students who expect in any wise to be concerned in the administration of our colonial possessions, but also to all other lawyers who expect to have any part in the growing movement to promote larger trade and freer intercourse with our Latin American neighbors to the South.

PSI OMEGA LECTURE.

Last Saturday evening Dr. Allan S. Wolfe, instructor in prosthetic technics, entertained the members of the Psi Omega Fraternity with lecture, or talk,, on porcelain inlays, illustrating the various steps in the process and the different kinds of cavities, with large plaster models.

After the lecture the doctor goodnaturedly answered questions for another hour and received a rousing vote of thanks for his kindness, especially from the seniors who are anxious to get all they can on this subject before they graduate.

The newly initiated delegation gave the brothers a pleasant surprise after the lecture in the form of bountiful refreshments and cigars, thereby establishing a precedent that we hope all succeeding new members will follow.

DEPARTMENT OF ENGINEERING.

Mr. Jack Sterrett, of the Electrical Engineering Class, has recently accepted a position with the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. We miss "Jack's" happy smile and genial countenance in the laboratory and drawing room very much.

Mr. Robert Fleming, of the Electrical Engineering Department, has lately been confined to his bed on account of an injury which he received while coasting. The teachers and students at Van Ness join in their sympathy at "Bob's" accident and hope for a speedy recovery. The loss to the track team is felt very much as Mr. Fleming was one of the mainstays of the team and at the time of his unfortunate accident was in training for the Richmond meet.

DENTAL.

Dr. Ralph Clinton, of the Class of '06, who received honorable mention last spring for the second best general average, has opened an office with Mr. Roy Brittin in the Carolina on 11th Street, northwest. Dr. Clinton, it will be remembered by the HATCHET readers, was Dental Editor for the paper during his senior year, and contributed a large share of his time and energy last spring in assisting Dr. Clinton in preparing the Dental matter for the Mall. Dr. Clinton's genial and pleasing personality has won for him many friends among the dental students, who all wish him every success in his profession.

The technic work in Orthodontia under Dr. Bassett has been temporarily postponed until the course in Pathology, which will consume three nights a week in February, has been concluded. It seemed like home to get back in the Bacteriological laboratory last Friday evening when the course in Pathology commenced. Prof. Carroll's appearance was the signal for prolonged cheering for "Major Carroll," and it was difficult to determine whether the medical or dental men were the most enthusiastic in the cheering.

Owing to the number of studies, the amount of work and the lack of time which the senior class has to contend with this year, Prof. Walton's method of drilling the boys in the principles and practice of Crown and Bridge and Orthodontia is an ideal one, and although his attitude at times may be considered severe, there is no question that he has the best interest of the class at heart. The members of the class are commencing to realize that if they learn the answers to the questions which the Professor hands out every week, they will be well equipped to satisfy State Dental Examiners as to their knowledge on this important branch of dental surgery.

UNIVERSITY CONGRESS.

The usual session of the University Congress was held in University Hall last Saturday evening. After the routine business had been disposed of the resolution on the Japanese question was again called up. A very spirited debate ensued in which Everett and Hendry, of Maryland, Fravel of Virginia, Drew of the District and Rowe of New Jersey were very prominent figures.

The question was so very interesting that it was quite late when the discussion ended. The opponents of the resolution resorted to filibustering and prevented a vote on it. They finally placed it on the table.

The Congress has added a new feature to its work in the shape of parliamentary practice, which affords much humor as well as instruction.

It is hoped that the students of the University will, now that examinations are over, drop in on a Saturday evening and participate in the Congress debates. Such an organization as the Congress is affords the greatest opportunity for a young man to develop the power to think and talk while on his feet. The Congress will meet as usual next Saturday Evening.

MEDICAL.

Mr. R. D. Wolfe, '08, has been promoted to the position of Clerk from that of Orderly at G. W. U. Hospital. Mr. R. Quick also received a promotion, now holding the position of Second Orderly.

Members of the class will be pleased to learn that President Littlefield's mother and sister, both of whom have been seriously ill, are now very much better.

Dr. Woodward inaugurated his course of ten lectures on Medical Jurisprudence last Saturday evening, with a very interesting general introductory talk.

Homeopathy vs. Allopathy was the title of a paper presented by Mr. Dunmire at the regular monthly meeting of the class last Saturday evening. Considerable light was thrown upon the principles of the Homeopathic School of Medicine, and it was pretty clearly shown that there is nothing taught by this sect that has not always been understood and practiced by the old school. The reading of the paper was followed by a free discussion of the subject, led by Mr. Thompson, who contributed no small part to the interest and enjoyment of the evening. Mr. Dunmire is to be complimented upon the excellence of his paper.

It is with regret that we learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Pyne, of Utah, mother of Mr. S. H. Pyne, Class Treasurer, '08. Mrs. Pyne has been in poor health for some time, and the probability of her complete recovery is very remote.

A certain professor was lecturing on the poet Gay. He advised the class, which was composed largely of co-eds, to read as much as possible of the poet's works. At the close of the lecture he said: "If you can't get Gay in the library, come to my study."

Only two Minnesota men entered the Rhodes examinations last week.

COLUMBIA DEBATING SOCIETY.

Despite rain and slush, a large number of aspirants for office gathered at the meeting of the Columbian Debating Society for the election of officers last Friday evening.

After the meetnig had been called to order and the report of the retiring president, Mr. R. I. Moore, '07, had been read, the society resolved itself into a committee of the whole to hear expressions of mutual admiration and the nomination of candidates was on. In spite of the flow of oratory indulged in by his adherents, when the ballot was taken Mr. Couden, '08, was chosen president for the ensuing term. Mr. Couden made a short and graceful speech in acknowledgment of the honor and then the selection of other officers was taken up with energy and enthusiasm. Every one had unlimited praise for his neighbor and unlimited work on his own shoulders, but inasmuch as the credulity of the society could not go the latter idea, Mr. Twyeffort, '08, was declared it in the race from the Vice-Presidency. In quick succession Messrs. Hutchins, '09, and Hughey, '08, were roped and branded Secretary and Treasurer, respectively. Mr. Hughey furnishing satisfactory bond, the election and installation proceded without delay. In accordance with the tradition of the society, the retiring President, Mr. Moore, was unanimously chosen Critic. Debaters are assured of searching and instructive criticisms of their work during the coming term. Messrs. Rehr, McClellan and Hendry were chosen to serve on the Executive Committee.

All matters of business reported by the retiring officers were acted upon and a number of new plans for work set on foot so that the society is starting out aggressively on the new term with a clean bill of health.

The idea has been suggested, and will probably be adopted, of outlining a series of connected questions of practical and current interest, as for instance, the different planks of a political platform. The society wishes it to be understood, however, that, should this proposition prove feasible and be carried into effect, it is not done with any idea of detracting from or competing with the coming contest between Senator Beveridge and Mr. Bryan. The two series could not be regarded as parallel in any sense, since that outlined by the society is purely in the interests of debate, and has no ulterior view of furnishing additional strength and campaign material to the Republican Party. Still it is thought that such a series of debates would be of practical educational value and would furnish an interesting line of investigation to which, as coming barristers, we must apply ourselves sooner or later.

At its next meeting the society will consider the modern tendency toward centralization of power in the Federal Government which is an engrossing and pertinent topic at this time.

PHARMACY.

Since the holidays the Freshmen have really gotten together long enough to select class officers, and elected Miss Richardson to the office of president. The selection is a strong one, and the term of the only "girl" class president in the University will probably be most successful.

From all that can be learned from the fortunate guests of the Seniors at their smoker, it was a most delightful affair. Something must have gone wrong, however, for no one is very free with comments, good or otherwise.

ALPHA KAPPA KAPPA.

The Alpha Zeta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa Medical fraternity entertained on Friday evening, January 25, in honor of the Nurses of George Washington University Hospital. Several hours were pleasantly spent in dancing and playing cards. The affair was given at the Chapter House, 1167 19th St., N. W.

The nurses present were: Miss Oliver, Miss Henson, Miss Cochran, Miss Redman, Mrs. Avery, Miss Hurdle, Miss Garret, Miss Nelson, Miss Morgan, Miss Mathews, Miss Abramson, Miss Humphries, Miss Bucher, Miss Washington, Miss Jones, Miss Doster, Miss Thomas, Miss Stabler, Miss Ridgely, and Miss Thompson. Other guests present were: Dr. Hooe and Dr. French, of the Hospital staff, and Dr. Middleton and Miss Werber, of Berwyn, Md.

TRACK AND BASKET BALL FUND.

The managers of the track and basketball fund wish to acknowledge the receipt of the following assessments which have been levied against the fraternities to help pay the expenses of the teams:

Kappa Alpha.

The names of the fraternities will be published as they come forward with their donations.

The total registration at Cornell this year is 4,322. Twenty-nine countries are represented, and forty-six states and territories.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The Alumni Association of The George Washington University met last Friday evening in the library of the Columbian College.

After the election of officers for the coming year Dr. Needham, President of the University, gave an excellent address which is briefly given in the following lines:

President Needham said that he had recently seen a letter written by Mr. Rockefeller, in which he expressed the opinion that Washington will not support a great university, adding that this opinion was in direct opposition to those given by Andrew D. White and President Eliot, both of whom, he said, prophesied a great educational future for Washington. He then directed the attention of his hearers to the fact that this city possesses unusual advantages for culture, and as all of the other capitals of the civilized world have great educational institutions, he could see no reason why Washington should prove an exception.

"I recently read a letter from John D. Rockefeller," said Mr. Needham, "in which he states that this city can not possess a great educational institution. In his letter he says: 'I do not think that Washington is the place for a great university. I have had the matter thoroughly under investigation, and I feel sure that it is not a propitious locality for a great educational institution.'

"Fellow-members of the George Washington alumni, are you willing to accept this? Do you believe this city can not support a great university? Will this city prove the exception among the civilized capitals of the earth? Is Washington, the most beautiful capital on earth, doomed to stand alone as the only capital which has no great school of learning? I think not.

"We who live here have advantages which few other cities in our country possess. We have access to the Congressional Library, one of the largest in the world; we have our art galleries, and students have a chance to study at close range the workings of our government. It has been truthfully said that Washington is the center of intellectual life. It needs a university which is both large and great."

The following officers were elected: President, Edwin C. Brandenburg; vice-presidents, N. Landon Burchell, Dr. Theodore N. Gill, Dr. Virgil B. Jackson, Fulton Lewis, William A. Mearns, John B. Sleman, jr.; secretary, H L. Hodgkins; treasurer, John B. Larner.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Richard Mansfield in Repertoire.

Richard Mansfield is coming to the New National next week to devote the entire week, with the exception of Saturday night, to the performance of Henrik Ibsen's comedy of human life, "Peer Gynt." Saturday night the bill will be changed to "Beau Brummel," this being the only presentation of this famous Mansfield characterization during the engagement here next week.

James T. Powers in "The Blue Moon."

The offering at the Belasco Theater, week commencing February 11, will be James T. Powers in the big English musicale comedy, "The Blue Moon." This latest importation can be fitly described as an international success, inasmuch as that it played for two solid seasons to capacity in London and all of this present season here in America.

Lawrence D'Orsay in "The Embassy Ball."

Augustus Thomas' latest and what Washington last season indorsed as one of his best, "The Embassy Ball," is the medium in which Daniel Frohman brings Lawrence D'Orsay back to this city at the Columbia Theater during the week of February 11.

George Fuller Golden.

Chase's list of eight headline polite vaudeville attractions for next week comprises George Fuller Golden, the greatest monologist; Mme. Theresa Renz, from New York Hippodrome; Bessie Wynn, late of "Babies in Toyland"; the Exposition Four; La Troupe Carmen; Gorman and West; Emerson and Baldwin, and motion pictures of "The Mysterious Mattress."

"Our Friend Fritz."

Comedy and pathos are delightfully mingled in "Our Friend Fritz," in which play Mr. Joe Hortiz, a well-known and popular singing comedian, is starring, and which will be the offering at the Majestic week of February 11.

SOPHOMORE MEDICAL.

Mr. French has been appointed class editor of The Mall to succeed M. S. Asbel, who was forced to go south on account of his health.

The day class in Pathology had a vacation the second day after the beginning of this new subject.

We are glad to report that Mr. McKnight has been seen again at the Bacteriology examination. Perhaps he will come again.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE.

Examinations are over now in Columbian College and the steady grind of the last months of the school year has begun again. With the exception of Washington's Birthday and one or two days at Easter there will be no more interruptions in the regular college work until the middle of May.

The fact that for practically four and a half months there is no "breathing spell" has led some to suggest the advisability of more holiday at Easter even at the expense of the summer vacation.

A well attended meeting of the Senior Class was held Friday. The question of a class emblem was brought up and the respective merits of a pin or a ring received due attention. After considerable discussion it was finally decided to refer the question to a committee with instructions to look up prices and designs and report at an early date. The interests of The Mall were presented to the class by the President and the members were urged to call on Harris-Ewing as soon as possible.

A floor committee for the Students' Ball was also appointed.

Y. W. C. A.

At a recent meeting for the election of officers for the Y. W. C. A., the following officers were elected by ballot: Present, Miss Mabel Scott; vice-president, Miss Jessamine Swartwout; secretary, Miss Allen; treasurer, Miss Corinne Brackett; leader of the Bible study, Miss Ellis. The meeting was attended by twenty-five students. Miss Brown, of the Washington Chapter of the Y. W. C. A., addressed the meeting. The names of the active and associate members of the association were then given to Miss Scott, and the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will be held after the week of the examinations.

The total enrollment for this year at Yale is 3,247, compared with last year's 3,208. Of this number Connecticut sends 1,107, New York 639, Pennsylvania 196, and Massachusetts 184. Illinois sends 143 representatives, the greatest number sent by any western state. The comparative smallness of representation of Massachusetts is accounted for by the popularity of Harvard. Canada sends 23, the greatest foreign representation. There are post-graduate students at Yale from 107 colleges and universities.

Harvard defeated Cornell at basket-ball Saturday by a score of 30 to 11.
